THE DEFY BOUNDARIES CAMPAIGN AT
CONNECTICUT COLLEGE | 2017-2023

THE FUTURE: UNBOUND

What began as a daring call to lift up Connecticut College's excellence for all to see, became a resounding endorsement of the College and its role in our society.

On the Waterfront:

Thanks to leadership gifts from champion rower and Athletic Hall of Fame member Jessica Archibald '95 and Emeritus Trustee Barbara Zaccheo Kohn '72, the revitalized waterfront provides a first-rate athletic facility for our sailing and rowing programs.

IN 2017, CONNECTICUT COLLEGE embarked on the largest campaign in our history, a campaign to Defy Boundaries.

This campaign was always doing more than we thought possible for our students. It was about redoubling our commitment to an innovative liberal arts education and giving students the resources to make that education more accessible and to put it into action. Contributions to this campaign are helping our students to become creative, adaptive thinkers ready to tackle the world's most complex problems—true citizens of a global society.

With the College's strategic plan, Building on Strength, as its foundation and Conn's new curriculum, Connections, as its inspiration, the campaign placed education, impact and full participation at the center. And most importantly, it inspired new commitments to support this vision in perpetuity.

An ambitious goal that shattered all expectations, eclipsing its $300 million goal to reach — one year ahead of schedule — a total of $317.5 million.

We offer our heartfelt thanks to all of our donors, at every level of giving, who contributed their wealth, their wisdom and their warmth to help bring about this historic outcome.

BREAKDOWN BY CAMPAIGN PRIORITY AREA:

Arts-Centered:

The $23 million Athey Center for Performance and Research at Palmer Auditorium is a hub of innovation thanks to a $10 million grant from the Sherman Fairchild Foundation and a $10 million gift from Nancy Marshall Athey '72 and her husband, Preston Athey.

KAREN AND ROBERT '88 HALE P'20

Rob and Karen's dedication to the College has strengthened every aspect of the Conn experience—financial aid, athletics, career development and campus infrastructure. Their generosity includes the establishment of the Hale Center for Career Development, the Hale Scholarship Initiative, which raised $19M for financial aid and scholarships, and the Hale Legacy Challenge, resulting in $46M in new bequest intentions in just 60 days that lifted the campaign to its successful conclusion.

JOHN ZEILER '74

In 2019, John's commitment to access enabled the College to expand its partnership with the Posse Foundation to include a new Posse from New York City, strengthening institutional support for students from first-generation, lower-income and racially underrepresented backgrounds. With a second gift, the College expanded Genesis, a program supporting first-year students from underrepresented populations, further demonstrating John's belief in the value of equity and inclusion. During the campaign, John also documented one of the largest bequest intentions in the College's history.

ANONYMOUS

Connecticut College's state-of-the-art Academic Resource Center entered a new era during the campaign with a gift of $10 million from anonymous donors. The support allowed the ARC to achieve a new level of excellence as a national leader in academic development and skill building for life. The ARC, which opened in 2013, offers students a broad range of programming and services. As a result of this commitment, Conn's ARC is one of the best endowed academic resource centers in the country.

NANCY MARSHALL ATHEY '72 AND PRESTON ATHEY

Through the extraordinary vision and generosity of Nancy and Preston, longtime supporters of the College and its arts programs, the creation of the Athey Center for Performance and Research at Palmer Auditorium was made possible. The historically informed renovation of this Art Deco architectural gem elevates Conn's reputation for educational innovation and profoundly impacts the study and practice of theater, music, film and dance as it dramatically enhances the academic experience for students and faculty.

SHERMAN FAIRCHILD FOUNDATION

The College has benefited significantly from its decades-long partnership with the Sherman Fairchild Foundation, including in the arts, summer science research and interdisciplinary collaboration. During this campaign, the foundation provided a $10M grant for the renovation of Palmer Auditorium that transformed the building into the Athey Center for Performance and Research at Palmer Auditorium. This reimagining of an iconic campus building ensures that the performing arts remain central to the liberal arts experience, a tradition that has earned the College's arts programs national and international prominence.

PAMELA D. ZILLY '75

As co-chair of the Defy Boundaries campaign, Pam was instrumental to the campaign's success, inspiring others through the generous commitment of her time and resources. Pam provided significant annual support for the College's highest priorities and contributed to an endowment to establish the athletic director's discretionary fund, as well as creating a bequest intention to ensure a vibrant future for the College.

Defy Boundaries campaign. Their gifts help Conn build on its tradition of excellence and innovation, making a great college even greater.

SUSAN ECKERT LYNCH '62

Susan is one of the College's most consistent and generous donors, always ready to help where resources are most needed. During this campaign, Susan provided significant support for the Otto and Fran Walter Commons for Global Study and Engagement, a hub for global learning. An early gift supported the renovation of Walter Commons and a subsequent gift created an endowment for a range of programming, including equity initiatives in global education, short-term global programs, summer international research and study, international fellowships and operating costs. Susan has also provided significant support for the renovation of Crozier-Williams.

JUDITH AMMERMAN BRIELMAIER '60

The Ammerman Center for Arts and Technology owes its existence and ongoing success to Judy's commitment to this center's mission to explore the relationships between the arts, technology and culture through experimentation, research and creation. Each year, the center community produces engaging exhibitions, performances, publications and public presentations. Judy endowed the center in 1991 and, during this campaign, provided funds for curricular and faculty development, a visiting fellow/artist residency and faculty and staff support.

CAMPAIGN PRIORITIES

Five Campaign Priorities

Inspired by Connections and informed by the strategic plan, Building on Strength, and the Campus Master Plan, the Defy Boundaries campaign priorities provided a road map for Conn's sustainable future.

RESIST THE PREDICTABLE

The world needs leaders who are intellectually courageous, inventive, resourceful and resilient to address the complex problems of our time. Connecticut College is addressing that need through Connections, the College's reinvention of liberal arts education. This curriculum encourages students to integrate their interests into an educational pathway to carry them through college and into a fulfilling career and life.

This comprehensive approach integrates all aspects of the student experience—major, study away, internship and extracurricular activities. Students pose enlivening questions while assembling a personalized portfolio of interdisciplinary knowledge and related experience. Guided by mentors and peers, students hone their analytical and creative capacity while building the foundations of their professional life—one that emerges from each student's interests.

HANDS-ON LEARNING STUDENT/FACULTY RESEARCH

CONN STUDENTS WORK ALONGSIDE FACULTY members as full-fledged collaborators, conducting research in the field, co-authoring scholarly papers and journal articles and making national presentations. These hands-on experiences attract top students to Conn and give them a competitive advantage after graduation.

The award-winning Science Leaders Program, launched in 2007, prepares students for a range of science-related careers and provides a foundation for graduate study or medical school. The program focuses on students from groups that are underrepresented in the sciences, including women, students of color, students with disabilities, first-generation college students and students who are economically disadvantaged. Working directly with professors, students conduct research on a range of topics that include bioluminescence, artificial intelligence and healthcare.

These experiences would not be possible without the support and commitment of alumni like Thomas '76 and Patience '78 Chamberlin, who created the Chamberlin Science Leaders Endowed Scholarship. Through their generosity, the College is inspiring a new generation to pursue careers in science, technology, engineering and math through close faculty ties and a self-supporting cohort. The Chamberlins added to their scholarship fund and their gift was matched through the Hale Scholarship Initiative.

LIBERAL ARTS IN ACTION INTERDISCIPLINARY SCHOLARSHIP

CONNECTIONS and the College's five interdisciplinary honors centers attract ambitious and curious students who want to make a difference in the world. Since its establishment in 1996, the Holleran Center for Community Action and Public Policy has put the values of civic responsibility and community involvement into action.

The Holleran Center, created through a gift from Carolyn McGonigle Holleran '60 GP'07 and Thomas Holleran GP'07, integrates research and study with cultivating active citizenship, leadership development, intercultural knowledge and a passion for equity and justice. During the campaign, Carolyn and Jerry Holleran continued to provide leadership through generous endowment funds to support faculty and staff positions and coursework and seminars. The Hollerans also established a bequest intention to ensure that the Center's work-preparing students for lives of civic engagement to advance the public good—continues well into the future.

Advancing Student Mental Health Resources

Associate Professor of Biology Mays Imad is leading a newly funded project titled "Toward an Equity-Minded and Trauma-Informed Teaching and Learning in Higher Education." The project aims to create an open educational resource (OER) course for educators across disciplines and institutions, focusing on the neurobiology of learning and stress, self-regulation approaches and resilience strategies. "This project is a vital step toward addressing the mental health crisis among students in higher

TEACHING AND LEARNING $49.6M

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE FACULTY SUPPORT

CONN'S IMPACT ultimately stems from the excellence of our faculty who are top-flight researchers, teachers and mentors. The faculty's excellence in teaching, research, scholarship and creative work has long been recognized by our students and by the global academic community at large. Their work frequently involves our students, and we hire faculty members who promise to be great teacher-scholars.

We provide faculty with the resources and support to succeed, not only in their pursuit of tenure but in the scholarly, creative and pedagogical pursuits that sustain their intellectual endeavors throughout their careers. Support from Judith Tindal Opatrny '72 has been invaluable to the recruitment and professional development of many of the new faculty at the College, who pursue research and creative endeavors that launch successful careers. During the campaign, Judy expanded her support to include mid-career faculty members. She also established a bequest intention to ensure that our faculty have the necessary resources well into the future.

Exploring the Role of Distraction

In May 2023, Assistant Professor of Psychology Jeff Moher was awarded a grant from the National Science Foundation (NSF) in collaboration with a researcher at the University of Utah to explore the phenomenon of distractor-induced quitting.

Moher specializes in cognitive psychology, cognitive neuroscience and visual attention. He uses behavioral and neurophysiological methods to understand why distractions occur, when they are likely to arise and what mechanisms humans can harness to avoid them.

"This research has potential real-world implications for tasks that involve high-stakes searches for targets, such as medical image screening or x-ray baggage inspection," said Moher. "In particular, it is worth considering that the use of artificial intelligence to convey information to a human observer may inadvertently trigger this exact problematic situation.

"The findings will be shared with the scientific community at large, but also with colleagues in radiology in order to spark new discussion on how we might apply this research to help improve communications from artificial intelligence systems to human observers in medical settings."

Students will play an active role in the research project, including eight student summer research assistants who will work on the project with Moher during the academic year, collecting data and presenting results at conferences including those focused on medical imaging.

education," said Imad. "It empowers both educators and learners with the knowledge and resources they need for a more equitable and trauma-informed approach to teaching and learning."

Imad, together with the project team from the College, aims to equip faculty and staff with tools to support students' holistic well-being. The project's goals involve promoting equity and justice, understanding the stress-learning-brain connection and designing culturally grounded mental health resources for students. The project is funded with a grant from the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation.

The openly licensed products developed by the team will be made available on the project website and shared on prominent higher education platforms.

EXPAND HORIZONS

At Connecticut College, we know that learning happens everywhere. Whether it is through student clubs, concerts and performances or conversations over a cup of coffee with friends, faculty or staff, the College is committed to providing students with opportunities for learning, dialogue and personal discovery outside the classroom.

Gifts through the campaign have enabled Conn to invest in the people, programs and spaces that foster a campus environment that understands difference, engenders productive debate, empowers increasingly diverse communities and contributes to the flourishing of others. Donor support creates opportunities that enrich students' experiences and the lives they will have in the communities and business they go on to shape.

LISTEN WITH PURPOSE STRENGTHENING EQUITY AND INCLUSION

FROM CONN'S INCEPTION, the College has been guided by the promise of ever-improving equality and social justice.

The Agnes Gund '60 Dialogue Project drives this commitment in new ways. Endowed by a $1 million gift by philanthropist and social justice advocate Agnes Gund '60, the project strives to build a community of leaders who respect and express a range of ideas and opinions.

The Gund Dialogue Project takes a comprehensive approach to facilitating intergroup dialogues by addressing difficult questions, listening to every side and gaining exposure to diverse viewpoints in a variety of settings on and off campus.

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING STUDENT PROGRAMMING

THE COLLEGE has more than 80 student-led clubs and organizations offering a range of academic, club sports, culture and identity, religious and spiritual, media and performing arts opportunities. One of the most popular groups is Outdoor Adventures, a grassroots program founded by students more than five years ago to provide outdoor education and leadership opportunities.

Through her estate, Dorothy "Dot" Hyman Roberts '50 established the Dorothy Roberts '50 Outdoor Education and Leadership Fund. The fund will help to develop student leader wilderness training and to purchase equipment for a sea kayaking program, snowshoeing, winter hiking, backpacking and climbing. It will also help eliminate financial barriers that prevent students from participating as they pursue opportunities for bonding, reflection, challenge and personal growth.

PRESERVATION AND EXPANSION CAMPUS INFRASTRUCTURE

CONNECTICUT COLLEGE'S ARBORETUM campus—set on a hill overlooking the Long Island Sound with its Athletic Center on the Thames waterfront—is one of its greatest assets. The campus Master Plan prioritizes improvements to the physical campus and landscape that are designed for sustainability and creating a more inviting and unified campus. The plan demonstrates how key interventions in buildings and landscape allow the College to have an even greater impact on academic and student life. Through the campaign, projects were implemented to provide varied outdoor spaces that are more inviting and unified and to leverage Conn's special location and variety of landscape types.

Karen and Robert '88 Hale P'20 provided resources to support a range of initiatives that have enhanced the campus, including extensive landscaping improvements for the entrance to Horizon House where Admission is located, bike racks and shelters throughout campus and a stunning Connecticut College sign at the main entrance on Mohegan Avenue.

CONSERVATION AND RENEWAL THE ENVIRONMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY

THE COLLEGE is investing in sustainable campus planning, developing curricular initiatives focused on the environment, expanding community outreach and leveraging Conn's natural assets, especially the Arboretum. A feature that sets Conn apart and encompasses 750 acres, the Arboretum includes the 30-acre Native Plant Collection and numerous natural environments, including a bog, restored meadows, oak/hickory forests, a wooded island in the Thames River and a salt marsh. The Arboretum serves as an outdoor classroom for numerous courses and is the focus of several long-term research programs. The Arboretum also provides stewardship of College lands and leadership on conservation issues locally and statewide.

Located in the wildflower garden of the Arboretum, the Elizabeth Babbott Conant '51 Memorial Grove was dedicated in May of 2023. Its creation enhances the wildflower collection and creates a space of reflection and tranquility that is open to all. The grove is named in memory of former Connecticut College professor, dean, member of the Board of Trustees and biologist, Babs Conant '51.

Another generous alumna, Sara Bradford '63, created the Arboretum Stewardship Fund to support landscape management projects in the Arboretum's Native Plant Collection and natural areas and horticultural maintenance of the many collections, plant acquisition, natural areas management, research support and student internships.

Together, these initiatives help ensure the health of this critical College resource.

“ There is so much to benefit from learning about nature, being with peers and trained leaders as they experience the outdoors, its challenges and beauty, its ecosystems, pushing one out of one's own comfort zones. We are pleased the Outdoor Adventure program will honor our mother and that the program will develop leadership training into an even more important part of students' experiences as they learn and grow. ”

— STEPHEN ROBERTS, SON OF DOROTHY "DOT" HYMAN ROBERTS '50

The Sprout Garden

Conn's student-run, organic farm is part of the Arboretum, occupying a half-acre in the center of campus. Founded in 2004, Sprout provides social and educational spaces in which students can practice gardening and gain hands-on experience with sustainable, small-scale agriculture. Through an award in 2022 from the Urban Agriculture Resilience Program, Sprout is working with FRESH, a New London food justice organization, to help produce healthy food for needy families.

SHATTER EXPECTATIONS

Athletics is a key driver of the student experience at Conn with half of our students playing on one of our 28 varsity teams or participating in club sports. Participation on a team teaches the vital skills associated with leadership: collaboration, focus, tenacity, execution and resiliency.

A successful Athletics program increases pride in the College and brings the community together. The strength of our Athletics programs has a direct effect on the strength of our admissions. And our success in recruiting excellent athletes has a direct effect on our competitiveness in the elite NESCAC. Through this campaign, Conn has made huge strides in Athletics with new approaches to recruitment, facilities and team support, and the coming together of the campus and extended Conn community as One Camel. One Team. The Power of Many. to achieve our ambitious goals.

JEWEL ON THE THAMES REVITALIZATION OF THE WATERFRONT

THE ABILITY OF OUR STUDENT-ATHLETES to make the most of their hard work and talent depends on the quality of facilities in which they prepare and compete. Connecticut College's property along the Thames River, the only campus waterfront among our NESCAC peers, has been an asset to our sailing and rowing programs, but years of neglect prevented our teams from taking full advantage of this special location.

During the pandemic, maintenance crews began clearing the hillside of invasive tree species and other overgrowth down to the river, inspiring a leadership gift from champion rower and Athletic Hall of Fame member Jessica Archibald '95. Jess's support resulted in a new road, sidewalks and lighting — now called Archibald Way — leading all the way down the waterfront. Completion of the roadway literally paved the way for a second leadership gift from Trustee Emerita Barbara Kohn '72. Barbara's generosity supported the installation of a permanent floating dock system to establish a multi-dimensional marine access point for the College—the Kohn Waterfront. The revitalized waterfront is now recognized as one of the top facilities in the country. It is also being used for marine science and recreation, such as fishing, kayaking and paddle boarding through the Outdoor Adventures club.

COMPETITIVE EDGE ATHLETIC PROGRAMMING AND COACHING EXCELLENCE

CONN'S COACHES ARE MENTORS, role models and advisers for student-athletes during their playing days and long after, with former players describing their coaches as significant influences in their lives. Through this campaign, the College built a stronger, NESCAC-level coaching and staffing model through the addition of assistant coaches, expanded administrative staff and dynamic professional development opportunities and coaching tools as well as significant recruiting enhancements. We also expanded programming support to provide resources and upgrades for many of our teams to ensure that students can make the most of their commitment as Conn athletes.

In recognition of the critical role our coaches play, an anonymous donor made a transformative gift to the women's volleyball program by creating an endowment for both the head and assistant coaches positions. This level of support provides resources to attract top quality coaches and ensures the continued success of the program.

Emeritus Trustee Ted Romanow '76 has been a driving force behind the success of the sailing teams over the years. A founding member of the sailing program as a student when the team relied on borrowed boats, Ted honored a promise he made to himself when he graduated to provide boats for the College when he was able. He made good on that commitment through the creation of the Theodore Romanow '76 Sailing Fleet Renewal Endowed Fund, providing the sailing teams with boats to compete at the highest.

ATHLETICS

TOOLS FOR SUCCESS CAMEL ATHLETICS FUND

IN 2019, the College established the Camel Athletics Fund to provide each team with the annual resources needed for competitive success and to ensure greater equity across programs. The Camel Athletics Fund is a vital resource for the student-athletes who take the field as Camels each year. Equipment, team travel, recruiting, uniforms, strength and conditioning, coaching and recruiting tools — the Camel Athletics Fund supports those needs and much more to elevate each team's competitiveness.

Dedicated donors to the Camel Athletics Fund include Andrew Bohannon '78, Mark Fallon '92 P'27, Michael and Maureen Champa P'24, the Gately Family, Bradford Freer '91, and Robin and Buzz McGraw P'21, and many others who epitomize the athletic department's mantra—One Camel. One Team. The Power of Many.—as they inspire our student-athletes in the classroom and on the field.

First-Ever National Champions

The renewed commitment to Athletics coincided with the men's soccer team's journey to the NCAA finals in the fall of 2021. After playing Amherst to a 1-1 tie through regulation and two overtimes, the Camels won on penalty shots in Greensboro, North Carolina. Senior captain Lorenzo Bocchetti '22 converted the deciding penalty after Peter Silvester '25 stopped two spot-kicks in the shootout, leading to the College's first NCAA Tournament team title for Connecticut College Athletics.

“ In order to win a national championship, you have to have a group of selfless guys. Guys that care more about that trophy than their own ego or reputation. That's hard to instill because everyone goes through a recruiting process where they want what's best for themselves, the best possible four years of what they can get from a school. But once you get there, it's no longer about you. It's about all of us, together. ”

— REUBEN BURK, MEN'S SOCCER HEAD COACH

RETHINK EVERYTHING

Connecticut College's nationally recognized career program focuses on the individual student and on integrating academic promise with professional opportunity. From day one, students start creating an action plan through personalized advising, real-world experience and invaluable alumni mentoring. This integrative approach prepares students for success in the job market, and to be leaders and changemakers. Through generous donor support during the campaign, we are building on the strengths of this award-winning program to offer students greater opportunities for career success and to develop the best liberal arts career program in the country.

AT THE HEART OF CAMPUS THE HALE CENTER FOR CAREER DEVELOPMENT

CAREER SERVICES, once located off of the main campus across Mohegan Avenue, moved into the state-of-the-art Hale Center for Career Development in 2019 thanks to a gift from Karen and Robert '88 Hale P'20. Now located in Fanning Hall, a hub of academic activity, the Hale Center sends a powerful message to our community—and to prospective students and families—that we help our students throughout their college experience to prepare for meaningful careers.

The 3,135 square feet of space on the first floor of Fanning includes "smart" conference rooms, interview spaces and a welcoming environment for visiting employers. Other features include three new classrooms and a new elevator, making all four floors of Fanning accessible for the first time in its 90-year history. The east entrance to the building, closed for decades, is now open, effectively making the career office the front door to campus.

IN THE REAL WORLD ENDOWED INTERNSHIPS

CAREER PLANNING AND THE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM are cornerstones of Connections. Connecticut College's reinvention of the liberal arts. Working with a team of advisers, including a career adviser, students connect their coursework to off-campus learning experiences and internships to build the skills and confidence they need to develop their career goals.

With support from the Charles and Ruth Polan Internship Fund, established by Mary Lake Polan '65 in honor of her parents, students gain real-world experiences that bring their classroom lessons to life in fields such as healthcare, biological, physical or mathematical sciences, the arts, film studies, music and graphic arts. Students have interned at a range of renowned institutions, including the Brown University International Health Institute, the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia and the Biomedical Engineering Lab at Tufts University.

CAREER

In 2020, the College lost a devoted alumna, Diane Bessell '59. Through her bequest gifts, the Diane Bessell '59 Endowed Fund for International Cooperation and Sustainable Development was established. In a partnership between the Walter Commons for Global Study and Engagement and the Toor Cummings Center for International Study and the Liberal Arts, Diane's fund immediately increased the number of student internships, engaging inspiring practitioners from our alumni community and our global partners in Asia, Africa and Latin America. As a cohort, Bessell Fellows leverage their internship experiences abroad to raise awareness on campus and in the local community about the social, environmental and economic causes of global challenges and holistic sustainable solutions to these challenges.

SKILLS FOR LIFE EXPANDING THE ACADEMIC RESOURCE CENTER

SINCE ITS OPENING IN 2013, the ARC has had an impact on student achievement, providing tutoring, workshops and learning resources for the whole campus. One-hundred percent of the student body has worked with the center in some capacity, with three out of four students using it regularly throughout their time at the College.

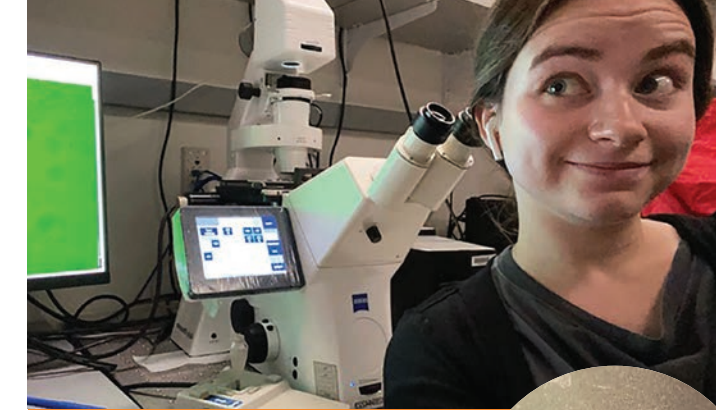

Three elements differentiate the ARC from resource centers on other campuses: its deep connection to the academic program; its commitment to full participation and to ensuring that all people thrive and reach their full academic potential; and its emphasis on transferable professional skills and integration with career education.

“I am thankful for the Conn alumni I have networked with who have helped me grow as a student and a professional.”

— SHAWNIA YON '24

The program in Career Informed Learning, developed in partnership with the Hale Center for Career Development, introduces career-transferable skills into the classroom. Industry experts partner with faculty to simulate work on real-world problems in courses across the curriculum. Fast Forward, another collaboration between the ARC and the Hale Center, is a week-long career intensive featuring alumni experts from a range of industries. The experience provides students with hands-on experience as well as guidance on the job search process and the development of critical interview skills.

Inspired by anonymous donors to the ARC and in honor of their 50th Reunion in 2020, the Class of 1970 endowed the director of the ARC position. This gift ensures the ARC will continue to attract individuals who are innovators in the field to lead the center, which is a national model for integrative student success.

CHARLES AND RUTH POLAN INTERNSHIP FUND

Vivian Taylor '23 POLAN INTERN

Vivian Taylor '23 interned in the Genetics Department at the Yale School of Medicine in summer 2022 in a molecular and cell biology wet lab, where she expanded a Hydra (a newly introduced model species in that lab) colony that a postdoctoral student was using for research. Vivian's experience allowed her to learn more about medical school and the process of research while still an undergrad. She is currently a research assistant at Boston Children's Hospital and Harvard Medical School researching the characterization of new pathways impacting hematopoietic (blood) stem cell formation and function in vivo and in vitro using zebrafish. She plans to attend medical school after graduating from Conn.

DIANE BESSELL '59 ENDOWED FUND FOR INTERNATIONAL COOPERATION AND SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT

Serena Prince '24 BESSELL FELLOW

In summer 2023, Bessell Fellow Serena Prince '24 worked with one of the College's long-term partner organizations, the Sasamani Foundation, which is located in Tanzania and focuses on the empowerment of girls and women in east Africa. The foundation was founded by Andy Halsey '77. Teaching in the local secondary schools in Bagamoyo, Serena was also involved in planning extracurricular activities for the students with whom she built positive relationships as she mentored the young women.

IGNITE POSSIBILITIES

Since its inception, Connecticut College has promoted a progressive vision of higher learning, where academic pursuits are strengthened by practical work in the world to produce graduates prepared not just to make a living but to make a difference.

Our founders believed that all those who desired a college education ought to have access to one. That commitment is part of the soul of this College and continues to this day. Through this campaign and its committed donors, Conn continues to remove the barriers separating great students from great opportunity, to expand access and equity and to provide a vibrant student experience in the spirit of full participation for all.

FULL PARTICIPATION SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

WE KNOW HOW PROFOUNDLY a Connecticut College education can transform an individual's life. We also know that this transformation affects the entire community, which is strengthened by the diverse backgrounds and perspectives that come from opening the doors of access to an exceptional educational experience.

Over the past decade, we have increased our scholarship and financial aid budget by 85%. Today, nearly 50% of students receive need-based financial aid. Through the Hale Scholarship Initiative, Karen and Rob Hale earmarked $10 million to double the size of every new endowed scholarship fund at $250,000 or more, as well as doubling the amount when added to an existing fund. The Hales inspired others to join them, resulting in $19 million for scholarships and financial aid being raised, strengthening the College's financial position and providing opportunities for generations to come.

As a long-time language teacher, Sarah A. Schoellkopf '97 is committed to ensuring educational opportunities for students of every age. Sarah's experience as an undergraduate was transformational. With support for her learning differences, she shined at Conn. In recognition of her formative experience and to provide opportunities like hers for students well into the future, Sarah established an endowed scholarship as part of the Hale Scholarship Initiative, doubling the impact of her gift.

Sarah says: "I think it's really important to diversify a campus racially, economically, internationally and in terms of life experience. I'd like to take the burden off students and their families and give students the gift my parents gave to me: to be able to focus on my education and pursue opportunities that came my way because I was at Connecticut College."

MEETING TODAY'S PRIORITIES CONNECTICUT COLLEGE ANNUAL FUND

THE CONNECTICUT COLLEGE FUND is the lifeblood of the College's progress, the foundation of its daily improvements and the means by which every donor's gift at every level is magnified for immediate impact on students' experiences. Support for faculty, financial aid, student life, athletics, equity and inclusion and the arts—the Connecticut College Fund is indispensable to them all.

FINANCIAL STRENGTH

$158.6M

“I'd like to take the burden off students and their families and give students the gift my parents gave to me: to be able to focus on my education and pursue opportunities that came my way because I was at Connecticut College.”

— SARAH A. SCHOELLKOPF '97

The Defy Boundaries campaign surpassed the $45 million Connecticut College Fund goal, reaching $46.2 million. This success is essential to the College and is an enduring portrait of the loyalty and pride of the thousands of alumni, parents, family members and friends who make Camel achievement and growth possible.

The support of Campaign Co-Chair and Trustee Emeritus Bradford Brown P'12 '15 '20 and his wife Jane Brown was integral to the campaign's overall success and to the strengthening of the Connecticut College Fund, ensuring that the resources needed to maximize the student experience on a daily basis are available. Through a bequest intention, Brad is also thinking to the future by creating a resource that will provide opportunities for years to come.

LASTING POSSIBILITIES LEGACY GIVING

LEGACY GIVING allows donors to have a profound impact on the College's excellence for generations. By including Conn in their estate plans, supporters invest in Conn's future and its commitment to our exceptional teacher-scholars and students forever.

In the final weeks of the campaign, Rob and Karen Hale launched the Hale Legacy Challenge to inspire new planned gifts from fellow donors. If the College could document $15 million in new bequest intentions by June 30, 2023, Rob and Karen would double that giving with a matching legacy gift of $15 million. The response from the Conn community was overwhelming as $31 million was raised in bequest intentions that, with the Hale's $15 million, resulted in a total of $46 million in just 60 days.

Seth Alvord '93 was one of the supporters who answered this call with a generous bequest intention. Over the years, Seth has made significant contributions of time and resources in support of a range of programs and initiatives, including the men's and women's rowing programs, the Peggotty Investment Club, internships and the Connecticut College Fund.

David Radic '23

When he applied to Connecticut College, all David Radic '23, from Banja Luka, Bosnia and Herzegovina, knew about life in the United States came from what he'd seen in movies. The beneficiary of significant scholarship and financial aid support, David was a history and German Studies double major in the Global Capitalism Integrative Pathway. He recalls, "I received my acceptance letter from Conn late one night, and I had never felt so happy. When I opened the second envelope the next morning and found out that the College would meet my full financial need, it was unequivocally the most ecstatic feeling I have experienced in my life."

With mentorship from Leo Garofalo, associate professor of history, and funding from the Richard Lowitt-Linda Lear Fellowship for Primary Research in History, David spent summer 2021 learning more about the lives of colonial-era African Americans and Indigenous people in New London County. David received the History Department award for excellence in the study of African history when he graduated in May 2023. He is currently employed as an associate at HighCamp Compliance.

The Sky's the Limit
The projects completed and planned for during the campaign demonstrate how key interventions in buildings and landscape allow the College to have a more physically arresting presence and a greater impact on academic and student life.

◀ ATHEY CENTER FOR PERFORMANCE AND RESEARCH AT PALMER AUDITORIUM

The historically informed renovation preserves and improves upon the building's stunning art deco design, and features better egress and sightlines, more comfortable seating, enhanced flooring, state-of-the-art acoustic technology, more natural light, a more open and welcoming entrance, and mechanical systems for lighting, heating and cooling that reflect the highest standards of energy efficiency. The revitalized Athey Center promotes pioneering artistic production and research, attracts world-renowned artists-in-residence, fosters cross-disciplinary teaching and scholarship and helps to advance the work of Connections.

WALTER COMMONS FOR GLOBAL STUDY AND ENGAGEMENT ▶

Operating as a nexus for institutional resources, the Walter Commons implements programming and strategic initiatives to promote awareness of the intersections between social justice causes and a deep knowledge of other cultures. Priorities include advancing world language studies; supporting networked courses to foster critical intercultural awareness; integrating on-campus coursework in the major and study away; and building institutional partnerships at home and abroad to create opportunities for participation in scholarly collaborations, exchange programs and civic projects.

TRANSFORMING LEARNING

◀ HALE CENTER FOR CAREER DEVELOPMENT

A cornerstone of Connections, career planning is located centrally on campus to ensure that their tools, programs and services are readily accessible. Through personalized advising, a flexible funding program and alumni mentoring, students begin creating an action plan on day one as they build academic and professional skills that empower them to thrive in life and in work.

THE STARK CENTER FOR THE MOVING IMAGE IN THE LIBERAL ARTS ▶

◀ WATERFRONT REVITALIZATION PROJECT

The revitalized waterfront, featuring Archibald Way and the Kohn Waterfront, provides a top athletic facility for the sailing and rowing programs. It also supports an outdoor classroom and living laboratory for marine science, environmental research and conservation, and provides a vibrant recreational space for students, faculty, staff, alumni and community members. The Reef Ball Project, led by Assistant Professor of Biology Maria Rosa, has received significant external support to create and expand artificial reefs built by Rosa and her research students to restore natural ecosystems and reverse erosion along the Thames River.

▶ ATHLETIC CENTER EXPANSION

Elevating our competitiveness in Athletics requires strategic investments in our facilities. Plans to enhance the Athletics complex include new coaches' offices, a multi-purpose function room, varsity athlete training center and study area, and renovated squash courts. Tim Armstrong '93, former trustee and longtime supporter of Camel Athletics, has made a significant gift to support this initiative, which includes creating a new stadium and spectator plaza overlooking Silfen Field in honor of Fran Shields P'14, Athletics director emeritus and former director of the Camel Athletics Network, who retired from Conn in spring 2023.

TRANSFORMING STUDENT LIFE

COLLEGE CENTER AT CROZIER-WILLIAMS

The renovation of Cro is a key project in the College's campus master plan. During the campaign, donors contributed $10.8 million toward this important building. Once renovated, Cro will become the heart of campus life, a place where students, faculty and staff gather, create and test new ideas together—and have a lot of fun, too. Consistent with the College's commitment to sustainability, the project will preserve the iconic mid-century building as it reimagines it from the inside out. Work is planned to start in spring 2024 with a grand reopening in 2025.

“With this campaign, the College will move beyond the status quo of undergraduate education, beyond how the liberal arts typically operate in the 21st century, and invest in the transformative power of a Conn education as never before.”

FINANCIAL SUMMARY Fiscal Year 2022-23

FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 2023, the Connecticut College pooled endowment (part of the endowment, not including perpetual trusts) was valued at approximately $448.8 million. The endowment returned 8.9% compared to a policy benchmark of 9.4%. We have performed in the upper half of the college and university endowment universe as monitored by Cambridge Associates, a firm that tracks the performance of foundations and endowments nationwide, where the median was 7.6%. We are pleased to report that the endowment has performed in the top quartile for the last five years as compared to this same group of diversified portfolios. The average annualized return of the College-managed endowment portfolio for the past three-, five- and 10-year periods was 12.2%, 8.8%, and 8.2%, respectively.

Lifetime Giving

THE AD ASTRA SOCIETY

The Ad Astra Society honors donors whose gifts and commitments have reached $1 million or more over their lifetime. Ad Astra donors are commemorated in the Ad Astra Garden at the top of Tempel Green. Created in 1996 by Emeritus Trustee Susan Eckert Lynch '62 in honor of her mother, the garden features stone benches surrounding a sundial fountain. The names of Ad Astra members are engraved on the benches as a permanent tribute to their generosity and dedication to the College. In fiscal year 2022-23, more alumni, parents and friends became members of the Ad Astra Society than in any year prior.

ROSEMARY PARK SOCIETY

The Rosemary Park Society, named for the College's pioneering leader and former president, is a donor-recognition society honoring those who remember Connecticut College in their estate plans or who have made other forms of planned gifts. Members have shared their meaningful future commitment with the College, serving as an inspiration for all who strive to strengthen Connecticut College. During the final sixty days of the Defy Boundaries campaign, $46 million was documented in new bequest intentions as part of the Hale Legacy Challenge.

Connecticut College achieved its best fundraising results in the College's history during four out of the six years of the Defy Boundaries campaign. In the first year of the campaign, during its leadership stage, more than $52 million was secured in contributions. That was exceeded in 2020-21, the first year of the public phase, with gifts totaling $54 million and that was quickly beat in 2021-22 with gifts and pledges of $55.4 million. During the final year of the campaign, donors like you truly defied boundaries by committing $81 million to Connecticut College. The donors named in this report collectively contributed $317.5 million during the Defy Boundaries campaign. To all alumni, parents, friends, students, staff and faculty whose gifts are listed in the following pages, our gratitude abounds.

Campaign Giving

Gifts made to the College during the Defy Boundaries campaign impacted every aspect of the extraordinary education we provide, from financial aid and scholarships, to internships, to faculty and student research, faculty development, student life, athletics, unrestricted endowment, Arboretum, campus beautification, and so much more. The donors listed below have had a profound impact on Connecticut College that will continue for generations. Together, we are ensuring that our beloved college continues to thrive and grow.
